

Inner City Wine Cellar

While living in the inner city provides an immense range of benefits, finding somewhere to keep your wine collection can be difficult.

wine-ark an innovative Sydney based business now expanding into other cities, provides a range of products and services that make storing and managing your wine: easier, more convenient and cheaper.

Just minutes from the city centre, their climate-controlled concrete "vault" provides the optimum conditions for long-term cellaring.

Not only do they store your existing collection, they accept new deliveries on your behalf, keeping your wine inventory up to date. Should you ever need a bottle or two, a delivery is just an email, fax, or phone call away.

Using their online cellar management system, you can inspect, research, and deliver from your own wine portfolio 24 hours a day. Also, once a month their "cellar club" meets, introducing members to wines suitable for cellaring.

If you prefer to keep your wine closer to hand, wine-ark also sells a range of cellars, each specifically designed to keep you wine in the best possible conditions. Ranging in size, colour, style and price these portable units will help to ensure that your "liquid assets" are not ruined by poor storage conditions.
