Wine Ark

If your wine collection is outgrowing your house then Wine Ark has the answer. Australia's largest wine storage provider, has the answer. Established in 1999, the company now stores over a million bottles for private collectors within their climate controlled bunkers in Chatswood and Alexandria. Clients are able to view their collection on the internet and trade wines on-line through their WINE_EXCHANGE, a kind of E-Bay for vintage wines. Recognising the growing appreciation of vintage wines, Wine Ark has recently started holding monthly auctions to help clients clear excess stock. Held on the last Saturday of each month the auctions are a great way to get your hands on some bargain priced vintage wines. There is a coffee cart and croissants available and by the afternoon you can be quaffing a fine wine.

The next vintage wine auction is sheduled for the 25th June at 10.00am.
